PENSIONERS INCREASING. Commissioner Lochren Mistaken in His Predictions.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 .- A year ago Commissioner of Pensions Lochren said that the limit had probably been reached in the number of pensioners or rather in the amount to be yearly appropriated for pensions, but that for two or three years the payments would remain about the same. It was his opinion that there would be a light reduction in the number of pensioners on account of deaths, but that the allowance of new pensions, with back pay and arrears, would probably keep the money paid for pensions will not be materially different from that of past years it appears that there has been added to the pension rolls during the year about a thousand names in excess of those that have dropped out, so there has been an increase instead of a decrease. There have been a great many outstanding pension claims adisted during the year and that accounts for the large increase. The year has not been very fatal to pensioners, the death rate being less than would be anticipated at the time of life at which the veterans

REASONS FOR THE CHANGE. Various reasons were given for the sudden changes in the slate. Mr. Scheu, of Erie, who had been turned down in the controllership fight, was very bitter. He said that the personal enmity of one of the leaders was the cause. A friend of his stated that the reason was that Herbert Bissell had refused to nominate him, and Mr. Scheu would not run unless the nomination was made by a Cleveland adherent. Daniel Griffin said, when asked by a reporter for his reason for withdrawal: "I have no desire to disguise the reasons why my name was not presented as a candidate for the office of Attorney-general. In politics, as in all other affairs, the least injury is done by a strict observance of the truth and entire frankness. Had my name been presented to the convention I would have been nominated unanimously. But after the report of the majority committee on credentials had been adopted by the committee, I labored so far as I could to procure the adoption of the minority report by the convention believing that the situation in New York county logically required the same treatment as had already been made in the case of Kings county. Before the report had been adopted I saw my friends and said to them that if the report of the majority of the committee in the New York city contest should be indorsed I would that position. The candidates nominated are men of exceptional character. The greater part of the work of the convention has been done in an admirable manner and the party having spoken in an orderly way through its accredited representatives will command general support notwithstanding the serious disapproval among many individuals of its action in the case of the New York contest."

When the State Democracy people left the rink, after being denied more representation, they were in a fighting frame and continued so until their train left at 2:35 p. m. The leaders were very free in their expressions of disapproval and here are some of their remarks:

John Jerolomon, president of the Board of Aldermen of New York: "We are going back to pulverize Tammany Hall. It is not the giving to us of one-fifth of the delegation that we object to, but the action of the convention in humiliating us, that we have no State committeeman or representatives in the party organization. We will figh them on county and legislative tickets and Theodore Sutro: "The effect will be to draw many of the German-American votes away from the nominees of the convention and Tammany Hall." John J. Quinlan: "We are going back to fight them to the end, and while we will not indorse the local Republican nominees, we may support a consolidated ticket, the same as we did last year."

Charles S. Fairchild: "We left the convention because we were humiliated by the ratification of the report of the committee representation in the councils of the party only allotting us a few seats. We will nominate independent county and district

THE CONVENTION. Delegate Patterson Hissed and Jeered by the Tammany Crowd.

Owing to various conferences this morning the convention, which should have convened at 10 o'clock, was not called to order till 11:25. As soon as the gavel fell, the report of the committee on credentials was read. The report on the Queen's and Oswego contests was agreed to without debate. When the New York contest was reached, the following resolution, adopted by the committee, was read amid silence:

"Tammany Hall is entitled to recognition in all future conventions as regular and its delegates are to be placed on the preliminary and other rolls thereof and in the appointment of inspectors of elections the use of party emblem and in every other way in which the question of party organization may arise, said Tammany Hall organization shall be recognized and seated as the regular organization of the party in New York county, but, in the interest of harmony
